From Barren Land to a Living Experience

Urvi Farm was born from a simple yet powerful idea, to create a space where people can step away from the chaos of city life and reconnect with nature, people and meaningful experiences. What once began as barren land slowly transformed into a thriving green sanctuary, shaped by the passion of two friends who believed in the beauty of the land and the value of creating something purposeful.

With time, care and vision, the land evolved into a lush farm retreat filled with greenery, open spaces and thoughtfully designed environments. Every tree planted, every space created and every detail added was guided by the intention of building a place where people could gather, celebrate and create lasting memories.
